4.6.1 Payment cards of the Bank allow cardholders to use them (including their requisites) also in a virtual environment - the Internet.

4.6.2 Payment cards (including their details) are used on the Internet via 3D Secure system. Operations in a virtual environment by the Bank's payment cards without using the 3D Secure system are possible only if the servicing site is not protected by the 3D Secure system.

4.6.3 With the help of 3D Secure system it is possible to conduct transactions in a virtual environment using payment cards of the Bank of all international payment and settlement systems (Visa International, MasterCard Worldwide), if the holders of these cards register their mobile numbers with the Bank for the purpose of which the SMS delivery service is activated with the processing center, and this type of card is served by the relevant internet site.

4.6.4 Customers who have not registered their mobile numbers in the Bank's information database can not perform transactions via the Internet using 3D Secure system.

4.6.5 When performing operations in the Internet environment, if necessary, you can enter the three-digit CVC2/CVV2 code printed on the back of the payment card. At the same time, this code can be used both in case of using and non-using 3D Secure system on the servicing site.

4.6.6 When making purchases on the Internet, the cardholder is advised to make sure that the site publishes a policy of protecting the rights of the Customer and contact details of the organization (if possible, they should be checked).

4.6.7 When using a payment card in an Internet environment, the cardholder should pay attention to the presence of a "lock" ( <https>) in the corresponding browser field, the Secure Sockets Layer (SSL) or Secure Web Site record indicates that only the cardholder and the merchant can view payment information (details).

4.6.8 When performing transactions in online stores, the PIN-code is not required, and the cardholder should not enter it under any pretext.

4.6.9 In case of frequent transactions in the Internet environment, the cardholder should pay special attention to the availability of anti-virus programs on his computer, since viruses can cause an outflow of information.

4.7 Card-to-card transfers

4.7.1 Customers can make card-to-card transfers by payment cards via the Bank's SST with corresponding facilities, mobile application, official website of the Bank and terminals created by other banks in the Internet in compliance with requirements of payment and settlement systems.

4.8 Other contactless payments

4.8.1 Other contactless transactions, including postal or telephone orders (Mail Order, Phone Order) are carried out using the details of payment cards and based on the cardholder's instruction.

4.8.2 When carrying out postal or telephone orders, CVC2/CVV2 code and other payment card details (except for the PIN-code) are allowed to be sent to the sale and service points.

4.8.3 When carrying out postal or telephone orders, the PIN-code is not required, and the cardholder should not enter it under any pretext.

4.9 Loss of payment card

4.9.1 In the event the payment card is lost or stolen, in order to suspend authorizations on it, the cardholder agrees to immediately notify:

4.9.1.1 the Bank - at the 24-hour telephone number +374 (60) 655 000 or

4.9.1.2 Processing company - at the 24-hour phone number +374 10 592222 or

4.9.1.3 Payment system - in case of being abroad and unavailability of the Bank or processing company, by calling for Visa cards at the 24-hour number - +1 (410) 581-99-94 or +1 (410) 581-38-36, for MasterCard cards - + 1-80 0-627-8372 (in the USA) + 1-636-722-7111 (outside the USA). At the same time, after notification of payment systems, the cardholder must contact the Bank as soon as possible.

4.9.2 Suspension of authorizations on a payment card by the software systems of the Bank, processing company or payment systems does not mean that the use of the lost payment card (including its details) is completely suspended. In this case, only operations subject to authorization are suspended, and the cardholder may incur financial losses for those operations that are not subject to authorization, despite the fact that permitted unauthorized operations are seldom performed and the total limits depending on the country and type of operation are in effect. In addition, this clause does not apply to those electronic cards of the Bank that require authorization for each transaction (Visa Electron, Maestro/Cirrus).

4.9.3 In order to completely suspend (block) the use of the payment card, the cardholder is required to notify the Bank, the processing company or the payment and settlement systems that, in addition to suspending authorization, also wishes to use the Stop-list service.

4.9.4 Suspension of authorizations on the payment card and inclusion in the Stop-list is carried out according to the tariffs of the Bank.

4.9.5 If the cardholder does not need to suspend authorizations and does not use the Stop-list service in case of loss or theft of the payment card, the cardholder is at risk of negative consequences through all unauthorized transactions, regardless of the fact of absence of fault, and the Bank is liable only for authorized transactions.

4.9.6 The payment card is entered into the Stop-list and validated according to the rules of the international payment and settlement systems.

4.9.7 The cardholder agrees to apply to the Bank to unblock authorizations and remove the payment card from the Stop-list.

4.9.8 Unblocking of authorizations on the payment card is carried out according to the tariffs of the Bank.

4.9.9 In case of loss or theft of the payment card, the cardholder can apply to the Bank for reissue of the payment card with new details (requisites).

4.9.10 The payment card shall be reissued according to the tariffs of the Bank within 4 working days after the receipt of the corresponding application.

4.10 Payment card validity

4.10.1 The validity period of the payment card is indicated on its back side in the format MM/YY (month/year), i.e. the payment card is valid until the last calendar day of the given month of the year.

4.10.2 The payment card is valid only in the period from the beginning to the end of its validity.

4.10.3 The Bank may automatically make an urgent release of the payment card 2 months prior to the expiry thereof. Moreover, payment cards with a valid status upon release shall be subject to rerelease. If upon the urgent rerelease of the payment card this type of card is no longer issued by the Bank, the Bank may issue for the cardholder such a payment card that best suits the type and conditions of the reissued card. Moreover, in case of a fixed-term re-release, non-personalized cards shall be re-released as debit cards with the standard package of the same card type and served subject to the terms designed for that particular package.

4.10.4 Upon the expiry of the validity period of the payment card, the Bank shall automatically make an urgent reissue of the card in the following cases, unless otherwise provided by tariffs and conditions for the provision and maintenance of this type of card:

4.10.4.1 For debit (settlement) cards:

- If there is at least one transaction for debiting or crediting the account (with the exception of interest payment transactions) performed during 12 months preceding the month of making a decision on reissue of the payment card and (or)

- if an active credit line is linked to the payment card for the term of its validity.

4.10.4.2 For credit cards:

- If the term of the line of credit attached to the credit card exceeds the validity period of the payment card in effect.

4.10.5 If the cardholder does not wish to reissue a payment card, he must inform the Bank about it three months before the expiry of the card's validity period. If the cardholder does not notify the Bank in the manner prescribed by these Rules of his/her disagreement regarding the issuance of a payment card under clause 4.10.3 or servicing the issued card, then the relationship between the Bank and the cardholder continues in the manner prescribed by the Contract and these Rules.

4.10.6 In case the payment card is unclaimed by the cardholder within 3 months from the date of its re-release, the Bank may liquidate the re-released card.

4.10.7 Payment cards, the expiration dates of which have expired, are subject to liquidation by the Customer.

4.10.8 The cardholder is fully responsible for financial losses resulting from the illegal use of payment cards (or their details), the expiration dates of which have expired and which have not been liquidated by the cardholder, regardless of his/her fault.

4.11 Interest rate accrued to the card account balance

4.11.1 The Bank accrues daily interest on the balance of the Customer's card account on a simple (nominal) interest rate in accordance with the Bank's tariffs, while for transactions made using a payment card or its details but not actually credited, interest is charged to the balance formed on the fact of transaction for the period until their actual offset.

4.11.2 Payment of accrued interest is carried out once a quarter, and interest, unpaid as of closing the card account - on the closing date of this account.

4.12 Closing of payment card and card account

4.12.1 The payment card shall be closed based on an application filed by the cardholder in a manner prescribed by the Bank or upon the expiry of validity period thereof (provided it is not subject to re-release) under the procedures prescribed by the present Rules or in cases stipulated under the Bank's tariffs. To close a payment card, the cardholder may apply to the Bank also by calling the Bank Contact Center. In case of applying to the Bank to close the payment card by phone, if there are sufficient grounds for identifying the cardholder, the payment card is closed.

4.12.2 The payment card shall be closed, and the Agreement shall be dissolved based on an application filed in a manner prescribed by the cardholder's Bank or via a telephone call by the card holder subject to procedures prescribed by 12.1.4 and 12.1.5 hereof or may be implemented unilaterally on the initiative of the Bank subject to procedures prescribed by the Bank's tariffs, as well as in the event of a non-performance or improper performance by the cardholder of the liabilities under 10.1.18.

In case of applying to the Bank to close the card account and terminate the Contract by phone, if there are sufficient grounds for identifying the cardholder, the payment card is closed and the Contract is terminated. In this case, the available balance on the card account can be transferred to an account opened by the cardholder or a third party in the Bank under the appropriate instruction of the cardholder. In case of transfer of the available balance to another account, different from the currency of the card account, the conversion is carried out at the corresponding current rate of the Bank. The balance of funds on the card account may be recognized as the income of the Bank on the appropriate instruction of the cardholder.

In the absence of the Customer's instruction to recognize the current account balance as the Bank's income or transfer it to another account, the card account is not closed, and the Contract is not terminated.

A credit line linked to an account by phone (if any) can be closed only if there are no obligations under this credit line.

4.13 Payment limit overrun (overdraft)

4.13.1 In accordance with the effective tariffs, the Bank establishes penalty for overrun of the payment limit.

4.13.2 Overrun of the payment limit may arise in particular in the following cases:

4.13.2.1 Performing cashing operations. Almost every cash withdrawal operation includes commissions that are calculated one or several days after the transaction, taking into account the date of offset of the transaction. If the cardholder's card account does not have sufficient funds (balance) for use, there occurs an overrun of the payment limit when calculating the commission.

4.13.2.2 Transaction in a currency other than the account currency. Usually card transactions are carried out in two stages: freezing of the amount on the card account, then the expense (write-off) of funds from the card account (offset of the transaction).

4.13.2.3 If the currency of the transaction is different from the currency of the card account, the freezing of the amount is made at the appropriate exchange rate. Further, in actual collection of the amount (offset of the transaction) in a few days, as a result of change in the exchange rate, the actual amount charged may be greater than the frozen amount, which in turn may lead to overrun of the payment limit.

4.13.2.4 Performing unauthorized operations. In some points of sale no authorization is performed when processing card operations, i.e. the availability of sufficient funds on the card account for the transaction is not checked. As a result, the freezing of the amount is not performed and on the card account it is not reflected as frozen (authorized), i.e. as the amount actually used by the cardholder. However, after a while (at the start of the transaction) after the amount is debited from the card account and there is no available balance, there is an overrun of the payment limit.

4.13.2.5 Accumulation of interest. If a credit limit has been opened on a card account (with credit or settlement cards), on certain days of the month, according to the Contract concluded with the Bank, interest will accrue on the part of the used part of the line of credit and in the absence of an available balance on the card account (including, unused part of the credit line), the overrun of the payment limit is formed.

4.13.2.6 Cards provided at reduced rates. If the payment card has been issued at preferential rates (including within the framework of salary projects) and for certain services of the Bank the cardholder has been granted appropriate privileges, when servicing the payment card at standard tariffs in the cases provided for in these Rules, charging commissions may lead to an overrun of payment limit.

4.13.2.7 Other commissions. When using a payment card from a card account may be withheld the commission fees envisaged by tariffs, including annual card maintenance fee, SMS notification fee, etc. In the absence of an available balance on the card account, the above deductions can lead to an overrun of the payment limit.

4.13.2.8 Reduction of the credit limit. If the Customer has submitted to the Bank an offer to reduce the credit limit, which has been accepted by the latter, and until the credit limit for the amount specified in the application has been reduced, the Customer performed an operation using the card or its details for an amount that would become inaccessible to him after the credit limit has been reduced, an overrun of the payment limit may occur. At the same time, an offer to reduce a credit limit is considered to be accepted by the Bank from the moment the Bank takes action to fulfill the conditions specified therein.

4.13.2.9 Use of available funds until the billing of card: Surplus generated as a result of outgoing transactions in case of transactions without a billing of card (receipt of card to card transfer, return of transaction, etc.)

5 COMMISSION FEES

5.1 Payment card issuance fee

5.1.1 The Bank does not establish a fee for issuance of payment cards. The fee for issuing and reissuing Payment Cards remotely, including adjacent cards, is set by the Bank's tariffs. A one-time fee for issuing and re-issuing Payment Cards remotely, including adjacent cards, is not considered an annual or monthly fee for servicing Payment Cards.

5.2 Annual or monthly service fee

5.2.1 The Bank establishes an annual or monthly fee for servicing payment cards. At the same time, the payment card is attached to the corresponding card account, and regardless of the physical availability of the cardholder's payment card, the fee for its servicing is calculated and collected in the order established by these Rules.

5.2.2 Payment for annual servicing of the payment card is collected in advance for the following year and is not refundable in case of early closure of the payment card or card account.

5.2.3 Monthly fee for servicing of the payment card is calculated and charged for each month, if in a given month the payment card has an active status (not closed). Annual or monthly fee for servicing the card is charged from the balance of the Customer's account. If collection of service fees is impossible due to the specific nature of certain payment card transactions) or for technical reasons, the annual or monthly card service fee may be withheld later for previous years or months in the manner provided for in clause 5.8 of these Rules.

5.2.4 For the monthly fee of the payment card, the month starting from the date of the card release shall be counted as a month and shall be settled and charged at the end of the given day.

5.3 Card account minimum balance

5.3.1 The Bank may establish a minimum balance for a card account attached to payment cards.

5.3.2 The minimum balance for a card account is established in order to maximize withholding from overrun on a card account.

5.3.3 The minimum balance of a card account is usually frozen from the first crediting of funds to the account and is not available for further use.

5.3.4 The minimum balance of the card account is returned to the cardholder after the payment card and the card account are closed.

5.3.5 The minimum balance of the card account is also used to repay all the obligations of the cardholder to the Bank, as a result of which there is a shortage of the minimum balance.

5.3.6 Shortage of the minimum balance on the card account is restored from the first crediting of funds to this account.

5.4 Payment card or PIN-code re-release fee

5.4.1 The Bank may establish a fee for the reissuance of payment cards (both for term cards and lost or damaged ones) or PIN-code.

5.4.2 The fee for reissuance a payment card or PIN-code is collected within 2 working days from the date of reissue. If the payment is not possible due to the specificity of certain payment card transactions or for technical reasons, the fee for reissuance can be withheld later in the order stipulated in clause 5.8 of these Rules.

5.5 Commissions for cash withdrawal operations

5.5.1 The Bank may establish a commission for cash withdrawal operations.

5.5.2 Fee for encashment is charged from the balance at offsetting operations on the card account. If charging of fee is not possible (including for technical reasons), then it can be withheld later in the manner provided for in clause 5.8 of these Rules.

5.6 Fee for non-cash operations

5.6.1 Fee for non-cash operations is established in accordance with the current tariffs of the Bank.

5.7 Other commissions

5.7.1 Charging of other commission fees provided for by the Bank's tariffs is carried out from the card account after the provision of the relevant service, except for crediting funds to the card account via the cashier and the tariff for closing the card account, which are payable at the Bank's cash desks before the service is provided.

5.7.2 If charging of other commission fees is not possible due to the specifics of certain operations on payment cards or for technical reasons, the commission may be withheld later in the manner provided for in clause 5.8 of these Rules.

5.8 Charging of commissions

5.8.1 A commission fee for a payment card may be charged from the balance of a card account or the credit limit provided to the cardholder.

5.8.2 Commission fees may also be charged in the absence of funds on the cardholder's card account. Overrun of funds can be repaid at the expense of funds deposited on the card account, and in the case of a closed card account for which there is an outstanding obligation to the Bank - at the expense of funds deposited on the corresponding account of the Bank.

6 Providing information on operations

6.1 Card account statement

6.1.1 The Bank issues a card to the cardholder with account statements, which reflect all operations on payment cards attached to the given card account, in a manner specified by the cardholder and with a minimum frequency of one month.

6.1.2 The card account statement shall not include authorized or unauthorized transactions that were not offset by the Bank in a given period. As a result, there may be a difference between the actual transactions and the account balance recorded in the statement.

6.1.3 The card account statement, at the Customer's request, can be provided to the latter in paper at the head office or branches of the Bank, or sent to the e-mail of the cardholder on the basis of the relevant application, or by the postal service at the address indicated by the cardholder. The Bank may establish a fee for sending out statements, except for the statements specified in clause Error! Reference source not found. of these Rules.

6.1.4 The statement is deemed to be delivered by the postal service in accordance with the RA legislation from the moment it is delivered to the cardholder at the address given by the postal officer, if received on the Bank's territory from the day it has been issued, or when sent by e-mail, from the moment of its delivery.

6.2 SMS notification

6.2.1 The SMS notification service is divided into two types: notification of authorization of operations by a payment card and by a card account.

6.2.2 The SMS notification service allows the cardholder to specify any amount and receive an SMS message in case of authorization of transactions for the given amount or more. Taking into account that payment card operations are in most cases performed after authorization is received, the cardholder is able to effectively and in real time inquire about any authorized operation. The service is especially important for preventing the use of a payment card for fraudulent purposes.

6.2.3 The SMS notification service allows the cardholder to directly follow-up his/her card account. Via this service the cardholder can inquire about the balance of the card account, the income and expenses on the card account, as well as the occurrence of urgent and overdue obligations under the credit limit.

6.2.4 The Bank charges a fee for the provision of SMS notification services according to the current tariffs.

6.2.5 The SMS notification service is activated at the request of the cardholder by submitting an application in the form approved by the Bank.

6.2.6 In case of receiving an SMS-notification of an operation on a card account and disagreement with it, the cardholder is obliged to immediately notify the Bank thereof.

6.2.7 In case of changing the mobile phone number, the cardholder must immediately inform the Bank about the change for using the SMS notification service. If any information becomes available to third parties due to non-reporting to the Bank of changes in the mobile phone number, this fact can not be considered as disclosure of information containing banking secrecy.

7 SECURITY OF CARD OPERATIONS

7.1 Maintenance of a payment card

7.1.1 The cardholder must keep the payment card in a place inaccessible to other persons and be attentive to the card, especially in public places.

7.1.2 The cardholder should not increase the authorization limits without a strict need, since the authorization limit minimizes the risks associated with unauthorized use of the card by other persons.

7.1.3 When making payments or cashing operations, the cardholder must not transfer his/her card to others other than the servicing employee (cashier).

7.1.4 The cardholder must not entrust his/her payment card to any other person. If necessary, the cardholder must order additional cards linked to the same card account.

7.2 Use of payment card via SST

7.2.1 When making transactions via SST or another self-service device, the cardholder must pay attention to the appearance of the device, the hole for receiving the card and the keyboard. In the presence of unknown devices, video surveillance systems, postings or other doubts, the Bank recommends using another SST or self-service device.

7.2.2 The cardholder should not use SST and other self-service devices in dark and crowded places if there are suspicious people nearby.

7.2.3 When using SST and other self-service devices, the cardholder must enter the PIN-code in such a way that it is invisible to other persons. The cardholder must not accept assistance from other persons when withdrawing funds from the card.

7.3 Use of payment card at points of sale

7.3.1 When making transactions at trade and service points, the cardholder must check the transaction amount and other details of the check before signing it.

7.3.2 When making payments at trade and service points, the cardholder is obliged, if possible, to keep the payment card in the center of his attention. It is desirable that operations are performed in the presence of the cardholder.

7.3.3 The cardholder should not show the card for payment in suspicious places or Internet sites (for example: in nightclubs, erotic and other suspicious Internet sites). This clause, in particular, applies to travelling or journey to countries of Eastern Europe and Asia.

7.3.4 When entering the PIN-code at the trade and service points, the cardholder must pay attention to the code entry from the POS terminal keyboard or the keyboard attached to it. Entering a PIN code in any other way is not allowed.

7.3.5 If the cardholder made an operation at the trade and service point and ascertained on the spot that the operation has been performed incorrectly and the latter is promised that the operation will be corrected, the cardholder may:

7.3.5.1 refuse to sign the check;

7.3.5.2 if the check has already been signed, request a reverse transaction and sign a new check;

7.3.5.3 in case of failure to reach an agreement, call the Bank or contact the Bank's branch as soon as possible.

7.4 Fraud prevention

7.4.1 In order to prevent possible fraud by the payment card, the Bank may automatically block payment cards or transactions if the transactions performed by them, according to the Bank's internal criteria, are considered medium or high risk.

7.4.2 The cardholder hereby gives his full and unconditional consent to carrying out of the measures provided for in clause 7.4.1 of these Rules.

7.4.3 In case the cardholder confirms that he has performed an operation that serves as the basis for the Bank to suspend the payment card or transactions, the Bank, at the initiative of the cardholder, can unblock this payment card and transactions.

7.4.4 If the Customer refuses to implement the measures provided for in clause 7.4.1 of these Rules, the Bank shall not be liable, including financially, for the financial losses of the Customer.

7.4.5 When the payment card or operations are suspended, the settlement and collection of commission on the payment card are not terminated.

8 DISPUTE OF CARD OPERATIONS

8.1 Dispute procedure

8.1.1 In case of problems arising from transactions performed on a payment card or its details (including excessively collected amounts, undelivered or unsubsidized goods or services, inconsistencies in delivered goods, etc.), the cardholder may, in the prescribed manner, apply to the Bank to dispute the transaction, if all possible means and ways of solving the problem directly in the sale or service point have been exhausted.

8.1.2 For disputing the transaction, the cardholder shall send a written application in accordance with the procedure established by the Bank. At the same time, the application can be submitted either personally in the Bank or by means of communication means, in accordance with clause 10.2.7 of these Rules.

8.1.3 A cardholder may protest against (dispute) operations committed by a payment card or a Priority Pass card that has not been resolved by him within 15 calendar days from the date of receipt of an account statement including this transaction and generated for a 30-day period. In the event that the operations are not disputed within the prescribed period, all transactions credited to the card account are deemed to be accepted by the cardholder and are not subject to further appeal, except for the case specified in clause 8.1.4 of these Rules.

8.1.4 The cardholder may file an application for disputing an operation carried out by his/her card no later than the 55th day after the date of receipt of the account statement, if documents supporting the impossibility of submitting an application within the period specified in these Rules are attached to the application thereto.

8.1.5 Upon receipt of a claim of the cardholder for unauthorized transactions, the Bank shall not later than the 90th day after the date of the claim:

- 1) reimburse the cardholder the funds debited from the card account, or
- 2) reject the claim of the cardholder for the refund of the disputed amount if:
 - a. the time limits for submission of a claim have been violated by these Rules, or
 - b. the cardholder has violated the provisions provided for in these Rules or the Contract, as a result of which unauthorized operations have been performed, or
 - c. the Bank has sufficient facts which serve as the basis for the disputed transactions to be treated as card fraud committed by the cardholder.

8.1.6 Under line "b" of sub-clause 2 of clause 8.1.5 of these Rules, violation of the provisions of the Contract is:

8.1.6.1 Failure of the cardholder to undertake necessary or desirable measures to ensure the security of transactions on the payment card, including but not limited to, non-implementation or evasion of the actions provided for in clauses 4.6.6-Error! Reference source not found. of these Rules.

8.1.6.2 Violation or improper execution by the cardholder of the provisions of section 7 of these Rules.

8.1.6.3 Unblocking a card that has been suspended at the initiative of the cardholder pursuant to the provisions of subsection 7.4 of these Rules or on the basis of information available to the Bank, after which the fraud has been made.

8.1.6.4 The violation of any provision of the Contract by the cardholder, action or inaction that does not comply with the provisions of these Rules, as a result of which an unauthorized transaction has been revealed.

8.1.7 In order to characterize the operations disputed under line "c" of sub-clause 2 of clause 8.1.5 of these Rules as fraud by the Cardholder, the transaction is considered to be sufficient, including operations using the PIN-code and not only.

8.1.8 The Bank shall not be liable for transactions made by a payment card or a Priority Pass card and authorized by the cardholder. However, if the cardholder appeals against such transactions, the relevant application requirements are examined in accordance with these Rules, RA legislation and the rules of the relevant payment and settlement systems. The Bank examines the cardholder's claims for the authorized operations, if they were submitted within 50 days after the offset of the transaction. In the event no claim is received for the disputable transaction within the specified period, all transactions credited to the card account are deemed to be accepted by the cardholder and are not subject to further appeal. In case of disputing such transactions, the Bank sends a response to the Customer within no more than 50 days, unless otherwise specified by the rules of payment and settlement systems. In this case, the operation is considered authorized by the cardholder in cases, and not only, when the transaction has been performed by entering a PIN-code and/or using the payment card data to perform secure transactions in the Internet environment (virtual card number, code, etc.) and (or) the personal data of the Customer (bank code) (information about which could not be available to third parties), via 3D Secure system, biometric data or the passcode generated by him/her in the mobile application of the Bank.

8.1.9 Upon receipt of the Customer's claim, the Bank initiates the process of re-charging the amount of the transaction, except for cases when the rules of the relevant payment and settlement systems do not provide for the possibility of re-charging against the disputed transactions. The cardholder's claim is rejected by the Bank as a result of the return of the amount claimed, if the task cannot be resolved in favor of the Bank, or the deadline for submitting the claim does not correspond to the terms of its execution, established by the rules of the relevant payment and settlement systems, except when the cardholder disputes an operation unauthorized by him and the claim is subject to satisfaction in accordance with clause 8.1.5 of these Rules.

8.1.10 In the event the disputed operation has been serviced by another bank, and the latter rejects the application for the return of the amount claimed, the Bank examines the response of the servicing bank and informs the Customer on the completion of the refund process, or suggests contacting the Bank to begin the second stage of disputing procedure in accordance with the rules of a corresponding payment and settlement system.

8.1.11 If by the request of the cardholder the Bank has transferred the relevant amounts to the Customer's card account, but the application has been subsequently rejected by the servicing bank or the appropriate payment and settlement system, the cardholder authorizes the Bank to charge the amount credited to his/her account without his/her additional consent.

8.1.12 In the course of examining the claim of the cardholder, the Bank may request additional substantiating documents from the latter.
